

Alain Blaise BATONGUE

He held key roles with significant impact. As Editor-in-Chief and Director of Publication, he gained trust from peers and authorities. As Executive Secretary of GICAM, he advocated for businesses and engaged with government. As President and Vice-President of the African Union, he promoted human-centered development. Through Scope Consulting & Services, he leveraged media and economic expertise. Currently at Orange Cameroun, he facilitates relations and coordinates initiatives. His career reflects diverse commitment to development.