

Audrey Alévina

Audrey Alevina, co-founder of Dhow Kimura, an African investment fund, focuses on sustainable trade financing. With over 15 years of consulting experience for SMEs, governments, and multinational companies, she established Alevina & Partners for African trade and project finance consulting. Her expertise in African regulations and financial security led to collaborations with development banks. Audrey began her career at PWC and EY in audit/finance and taxation roles.