

SAR Mouhammad Nabil Mforifoum Mbombo Njoya earned a Bachelor's degree in Networking and Telecommunications from St. John's University, followed by a Master's degree in Public Law from the University of Yaoundé II. He then joined ENAM (National School of Administration and Magistracy), Economics and Finance section, while actively engaging in international volunteer actions. He held various positions in the Cameroonian public administration before being enthroned Sultan King of Bamouns in 2021 and President of the Customary Court of Fouban in 2022. In 2023, he was listed among the 100 most influential Africans under 40 and was appointed UNICEF Champion in 2024.