

Bridget Ugwe is the Editor-in-Chief at Africanews, leading a team of African journalists and correspondents across the continent. She has hosted a Culture section focused on the diaspora and interviewed prominent figures such as Emmanuel Macron and Paul Kagame. Additionally, she is a moderator of international conferences and a public speaking coach. Bridget is recognized as one of the Young Leaders of the French African Foundation.